THE CLASSIFIED DIRECTORY at the end of Book, exhibits the various manufacturing, mercantile, and professional names, compiled under headings appropriate to the class of industry or profession followed.

ADVERTISING LETHBRIDGE

An important function of the Directory is to set forth the characteristics and advantages of the city as a place of residence, as a business location, as an industrial site, and as an educational centre. The Directory acts as a mirror, reflecting all that is noteworthy in the city in the above respects. In order to spread this information regarding the city broadcast over the country, the publishers have placed copies of this issue of the Directory in the directory libraries, where they are readily available for reference use by the public. There they serve as perpetual advertisements of Lethbridge for business men the country over realize that the City Directory represents the community as it really is.

The publishers take this opportunity of thanking the citizens for valuable assistance rendered in the way of furnishing information concerning themselves, their friends and their business interests for this Directory, and also the public-spirited and progressive business and professional men for support given in the way of patronage.

Respectfully, The Publishers,

HENDERSON DIRECTORIES LIMITED.

LOCATION

Lethbridge is a divisional point on the Crow's Nest Pass line of the Canadian Pacific Railway to Vancouver, 125 air miles southeast of Calgary, 475 air miles east of Vancouver and 700 air miles from Winnipeg. It is on the Oldman River immediately above the site of Coal Banks, where Nicholas Sheran, Alberta's first miner started working on coal facings in 1872. This name was changed in 1885 in honor of William Lethbridge, first president of the North-Western Coal and Navigation Company, which company developed the coal properties at Coal Banks. This exploitation was carried out upon the recommendation of Elliott T. Gait, son of Sir Alexander Galt, one of the fathers of Confederation, and the name of Gait has been associated with the city ever since.

PROGRESS

Lethbridge achieved the dignity of a town in 1891, its first mayor being C. A. Magrath, who was also the first president of the Lethbridge Board of Trade. The town received its city charter in 1906, with a commission form of government being inaugurated in 1914. This was continued until 1928, at which time the managerial form of civic government was instituted and it is still in force. At the commencement of this type of government the city had a net debt of $2,800,000, whereas at the end of 1947 the net debt was only $803,400, or a per capita debt of less than $46.00.

MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT

The city council is elected by the popular vote of eligible voters, the mayor being chosen from the councillors at the first meeting of the new council each year. The public and private school boards are also elected by popular vote.

Municipal Ownership:

The city owns its own power, waterworks and filtration systems, and a modern sewage disposal plant. It also operates the local bus transit system.

Other Facilities:

The city and district is also served by natural gas and has more than ample coal supplies. Electricity is available at reasonable rates, supplied by the municipal power plant and supplemented by the services of the Calgary Power Co.

Communication is provided by the lines of the Alberta Government Telephones, whose Southern Alberta headquarters are in Lethbridge.

AGRICULTURE

Lethbridge is the centre of one of the largest and richest farming and ranching areas in Canada— some 7,000,000 acres, of which over a quarter of a million acres are presently under irrigation. Almost $38,000,000 worth of wheat came from the Lethbridge division of the C.P.R. in 1947 and with a 40,000,000 bushel crop in sight this figure should be greatly exceeded in 1948. In addition, during 1947, coarse grains, livestock and other agricultural products added $38,500,000 in revenue, and this does not include the production of the sugar and vegetable canning factories.

Irrigation:

Irrigation farming has played an important part in the development of the city and the surrounding district during the past 25 years. Through it has developed a sugar beet and a vegetable canning industry, both of which are thriving. Beef and sheep feeding products have grown tremendously as a result of the availability of sugar beet by products, and each year many thousand head of cattle and lambs are maintained and finished on wet beet pulp and betalasses.

St. Mary-Milk River Development:

Commencement of work on this irrigation project in 1946 marked the beginning of a new era for the Lethbridge district. Now, in 1948 the diversion tunnel has been finished and work has commenced on the construction of the St. Mary Dam, largest of units in this project which will more than double the amount of land already under irrigation. The entire program is expected to cost between $15 and $20 million dollars and is being financed jointly by the provincial and dominion governments. Its completion will mean increased opportunities for agricultural and industrial expansion, more people on the land, more wealth produced.

Dominion Experimental Station:

This station was established east of the city in 1907, and has been a major factor in the agricultural development of Southern Alberta. Over 1,000 acres of land that comprise the farms of the station are partly irrigated and partly non-irrigated, so that both irrigation and dry farming investigations have been conducted throughout the years. Lethbridge is ideally situated for agricultural research because of the wide variation in climatic and soil conditions. Realizing this the Dominion Department of Agriculture, is developing a large research institution at the Lethbridge Station. Both the Dominion Experimental Farms Service and the Dominion Science Service are constructing Laboratories at the Station for expanded work in insect studies, plant breeding of field and horticultural crops, plant pathology, animal nutrition, and other phases of agriculture that must be studied in the laboratory as well as in the field.

INDUSTRY

Mining:

Coal was the prime reason for the settlement of Lethbridge, and it still plays an important part in its economy, there being over 600 miners employed in the mines at and near Lethbridge. It is estimated that there is a reserve of two billion tons in the deposits underneath Lethbridge, and the future use of these reserves is becoming a matter of concern to the mining industry as well as to those who realize to what extent coal is connected to the welfare of this district. It is to be hoped that extensive developments will be seen in the utilization of coal through processing into plastics and more efficient fuels, for which purpose Lethbridge coal is ideal.

Food Processing:

There have developed during recent years, many secondary industries which are allied closely to the products of irrigated land. Four of the main industries which now operate in the Lethbridge area look to the farm for their raw materials. They are beet sugar refining, vegetable canning, flour milling, and brewing. Of these the first two are dependent upon the products of irrigation. Other industries are either here in the city and district, or are in the planning stage. The macaroni factory, already well established has commenced construction on a new, modern plant. The seed industry supplies food products to an ever widening field, and a plant processing breakfast cereals finds a ready market for its output. Plans are well advanced for a co-operative packing plant to serve the livestock industry, and more should be heard from this enterprise during the coming year. Butter and cheese factories serve the various districts throughout the countryside, although dairying has not yet become as firmly established as it will be with the projected extensions of irrigation.

Other Industries:

At nearby Nobleford there is produced a cultivator, for which there is an ever-increasing market. Approximately 75% of these machines are sold in the United States, and marketing has been carried out in Saskatchewan, and all of the north-central states. Some progress has also been made in the shipping of individual machines as far south as Texas. Farm machinery is also manufactured on a smaller scale in Lethbridge and other adjacent points.

Other industries in operation in the city and district are: an iron works which manufactures iron castings and the locally produced hay stacker; a sash and door factory; a box factory; clothing factories, one of which at Macleod produces good quality womens clothing two cinder brick plants; a heavy metal fabricating plant.

Industrial Sites:

The City of Lethbridge and the C.P.R. own many ideal industrial sites, and in addition there is at the city limits an outstanding opportunity for the industrialist in the former Prisoner of War Camp site, which is served by all of the utilities, and could be made readily available to industry.

COMMERCIAL

Lethbridge is one of the best trading centres in Canada, it ranking 25th in general merchandise sales in the last Dominion census figures. A new wealth production record was set in 1947 in the Lethbridge division of the C.P.R. with a figure of $102,300,000. There is a potential market of an estimated 102,000 people in the wholesale trading area, and in that served by retail merchants there are 68,000. In the afore-mentioned census figures Lethbridge ranked 29th in postal revenue, 30th in bank clearings, and 29th in building permits.

TRANSPORTATION

Lethbridge is the divisional headquarters of the Lethbridge division of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, with direct connections to Vancouver. It also connects with the main line at Calgary and Medicine Hat, and is a focal point for other localities north and south. The Greyhound Bus Lines offer a similar service which is supplemented by the smaller bus companies. Lethbridge is also serviced by the Trans-Canada Airlines with north connections to Calgary, Edmonton, and Alaska, while the Western Airlines supplies a service to Great Falls, Salt Lake City and Los Angeles.

MISCELLANEOUS

The Lethbridge Chamber of Commerce:

The Lethbridge Chamber of Commerce was organized in 1889, with C. A. Magrath as its first president, and it has always played a leading part in city's progress. Information on questions relating to the city and district is available at all times through the office on the mezzanine floor of the Marquis Hotel.

There is also a very active Junior Chamber of Commerce which was organized in 1945. It participates in many projects of a community nature, an outstanding example of which is the fine film projection service which it operates in co-operation with the Lethbridge Public Library, making available to all community organizations a varied program of films. It also has a plan of self development for its membership which is exemplified in its public speaking training classes which have been acclaimed best amongst junior chambers of Alberta.

Parks and Recreational Facilities:

There are ample opportunities for recreation in the city owned 200 acres of parks, which are adapted for various purposes. The outstanding attractions are Galt Gardens, in the heart of the city, and Henderson Park, which has a lake, wading pool, and dance pavilion, as well as playground equipment. There are also three ball parks, two golf courses, a soccer field, an artificial ice arena, and a curling rink. Dedicated in 1948 was the new open-air swimming pool, which was built through the efforts of the Lion's Club. In addition to these facilities, the local service clubs operate various playgrounds for summer and winter sports, such as tennis, fast ball and ice skating. They are also well outfitted with playground equipment and wading pools.

The Y.M.C.A. carries on its fine tradition, in Lethbridge as elsewhere, providing recreation and cultural opportunities. In Galt Gardens is located the Gurney Museum which contains many historical relics and fine specimens of wild life.

Two Public Servants:

Lethbridge is well served by two public servants, the Lethbridge Herald and Radio Station C.J.O.C. The paper was first published as a weekly in 1905, and, in 1947, celebrated its 40th anniversary as a daily. It has always been a champion for any cause which benefitted Lethbridge and the province of Alberta. Radio Station C.J.O.C. first went on the air in 1926, moving to its present location atop the Marquis Hotel in 1928. In 1947 it increased its power to 5,000 watts on the occasion of its 21st year of operation, and is now able to give the utmost in service to its wide audience of listeners.

CIVIC CENTRE

As proof of the faith of its citizens in the future of Lethbridge are the ambitious plans for the Civic Centre, which is located on four city blocks near the heart of the city. The first building was the new city hall, which was opened during the summer of 1948. This is being followed by an indoor sports centre and auditorium, and the Fritz Sick Memorial Swimming Pool, which is to be built by money donated by Mr. Sick, a late resident of Lethbridge. The future also calls for other buildings as well as grounds for football, baseball, and tennis, which additions will be made over a period of years as funds are made available. The whole area will be landscaped and improved in a manner befitting the future civic, cultural and recreational centre of a progressive city.

More than ninety per cent. of all advertising mediums are discarded before they're a year old

After the new ones come out your advertisement in the directory is still good, for old directories are seldom discarded while they hold together. Years later many of these directories will still be in active use. Your advertisement is still in service

Do you want LONG-LIVED advertising?
